

Valentin Peytchinov, Voice Coach

With extensive stage experience as a performer and a musical education both in the Bulgarian National Conservatory and at the Juilliard School of Music, Valentin Peytchinov can help vocalists build solid, lasting skills. Valentin is deeply convinced that in cases of the most difficult vocal challenges, the basic reeducation should not take more than 40 to 60 hours, regardless of the level of difficulty.

The same length of time would be required for beginners to acquire mastery of the basics. Valentin also work with jazz and pop singers, as well as actors, doctors, lawyers, news anchors, and other professionals who require strong vocal communication skills.

If you are a vocalist looking for a new vocal coach or, teacher, or if you should need specific work on your technique or are preparing for an audition or competition, or if you are new to singing or public speaking, Valentin is open to working with you to achieve your personal goals.

Contact him at his website: (or e-mail address)